Happy Very Sad

New Contract Hopes Slim

MIAMI BEACH, March 12—Gloom enveloped the prospects of Baseball Commissioner Albert B. (Happy) Chandler to retain his job today when the 16 owners of the major league clubs met to decide his fate.

Even top supporters of Chandler admitted that he faces an uphill fight to get the necessary 12 votes that will assure him of reelection.

Connie Mack, venerable owner of the Philadelphia Athletics, said that Chandler hopes appeared slim just before the meeting opened. Mack commented:

"I doubt that the vote will enable Chandler to get a new contract."

The Athletics' 83-year-old boss, who consistently has endorsed Chandler, significantly added, however, that "time may tell another story."

Mack explained that Chandler, despite possible defeat at the Miami Beach meeting, eventually may be retained as commissioner through a subsequent "change of heart and mind" by the baseball moguls.

THE MEETING opened with three votes definitely against Chandler and three others doubtful, with only 10 apparently assured for him.

His chances to win out over his critics who once already voted his removal seemed no more certain than the flip of a coin. The ex-senator from Kentucky walked into the special session as jittery as a schoolboy expecting a spanking, but hoping somehow that he will not get it.

He needs 12 of the 16 ballots to avoid an ouster from his $65,000-a-year job.

Sportscaster Harry Wisner said in a broadcast last night that Chandler intends to resign his baseball post because he feels he cannot obtain the necessary approving votes.

Wisner said Happy will be appointed to the Senate seat left vacant by the death of Virgil Chapman of Kentucky.

Chandler said of this: "I have no comment to make on such a report. I did not tell Wisner that, and I have nothing further to say at this time."

The vote of the men who operate big league baseball gave Happy a last chance to keep the position he got in 1945 after the death of the iron-minded Kenesaw Mountain Landis.

Chandler seemed quite unhappy as well as uncertain about the issue.

NO SPECIFIC charge ever was placed against him publicly. Some of the bosses privately accused him of everything from being unfit for the job to favoring his best friends among them.

They then tacitly proved that the game is their own business and not that of the paying customers when they suddenly announced after a winter caucus in St. Petersburg that Chandler simply had been refused a new contract.

He pleaded for another vote and got it at this meeting.

After another behind-the-scenes session for four hours yesterday, the owners declared they would legally and lastingly settle the Chandler case by listing only his name on the ballot today.

American League President William Harridge expressed the idea that the single vote "will clear the atmosphere."

YUGOSLAVIA REPORTS Russia is massing men and weapons along her frontiers for an attack aimed at overthrowing Marshal Tito's government. Large contingents of Soviet troops are stationed near the border in both Romania and Hungary, and Russia is also arming and mobilizing those Soviet satellites, the Yugoslav government stated in a 481-page white book. The trouble spots are indicated by arrows on the map. Copies of the Yugoslav charges were presented to the United States State Department and Secretary Trygve Lie of the United Nations.

SENATE MEASURE IGNORED

U.S. House Now Pondering Its Own Draft-UMT Bill

WASHINGTON, March 12—The House opened a drive today for enactment of new draft legislation within the next ten days.

The House Armed Services Committee shunted aside the Senate's draft bill, approved Friday by a 79 to 5 vote, and began closed-door consideration of its own bill.

Chairman Vinson, (D) Ga., announced that his goal is to have Congress send the legislation to the White House before it begins its 10-day Easter recess March 25.

Vinson told newsmen he will strive for committee approval of his bill today with the hope of calling the measure to the floor Wednesday and passing it by the end of the week. This would give the House-Senate conferees three days to reach agreement on the final legislation.

Indications are that the House will reject the Senate's proposal to lower the present 19 through 25 draft age to 18, and vote instead to make the draft applicable to youths eighteen and one-half years old.

VINSON'S BILL goes along with the Senate measure by limiting the size of the armed forces to four million men and women. The Georgian said that as long as the armed forces remain below that strength there will be no need to call up men under 19. Present Defense Department plans provide for 3.5 million personnel by July 1.

Vinson's bill differs from the Senate measure in these major aspects:

1. Although delaying the draft to eighteen and one-half, it does not contain a Senate restriction that no one under 19 shall be inducted until local boards have

Food Baskets Cost $1 More

COLUMBUS, March 12—Housewives are spending almost a dollar more on the weekly grocery list than they did before Korea.

The Ohio Industrial Relations Department said today that price averages on 21 food items in Central Ohio showed the typical 60-pound food basket had gone from $14.84 to $15.75 since the outbreak in Korea.

Ridgway informed the news conference that Gen. Douglas

MacArthur, during his visit to the Korean front last week, had warned him about the "Oriental conception of time."

"There is a timelessness about the Oriental," Ridgway said. "He is willing to bide his time. It would not make much difference to China if she had to wait six or eight months or much longer if she could ultimately destroy our forces."

But the Eighth Army chief hastened to point out: "If Communist China failed to drive us into the sea, it would be a defeat for her of incalculable importance."

Referring to Red China's military troubles, the top UN field commander declared:

"The degree to which we deflate her military reputation, to that degree we influence the thinking of millions and millions of people in Asia."

"Eventually, it must react on the political action of their (Chinese Communist) government. Thus, it would be of tremendous importance."

COMPROMISE PROPOSALS BEING OFFERED

Johnston Still Trying To Get Labor Back To Work On Federal Wage Board

WASHINGTON, March 12—Economic Stabilizer Eric Johnston today resumed his effort to bring management and labor together to reestablish disrupted wage stabilization machinery.

Johnston renewed conferences with both industry and labor groups on compromise proposals for reorganizing the Wage Stabilization Board.

It has been comparatively inactive since the three Labor members walked out in mid-February after the six industry and public members approved the ceiling limiting wage boosts to 10 percent since Jan. 15, 1950.

If an agreement is reached, Labor will resume its membership on the board. But any reorganization plan reportedly will call for a boost in board membership to 18, six each from industry, labor and the public, and appointment of a chairman to replace Cyrus S. Ching.

Ching is said to be anxious to return to his old post as chief of the Labor Department Conciliation and Mediation Service.

The one major obstacle to an agreement is Labor's demand that the wage board shall have power to handle labor disputes as well as wage stabilization questions.

Up to now, little progress has been made toward a settlement of this issue. Labor wants the board to have full power to handle disputes. Industry opposes the idea, but is willing to have the board dispose of disputes

Complete Tin Control Ordered

WASHINGTON, March 12—

The government today imposed complete controls on tin and ordered the Reconstruction Finance Corp. to take charge of all U.S. purchases of the metal abroad.

In other actions, the National Production Authority:

1. Increased for the third time the amount and types of steel which producers must set aside for defense industries.

2. Tempered the tin order somewhat by increasing the amount of cans manufacturers may produce in April, May and June to meet seasonal demands of the canned food industries.

that arise from interpretation of wage stabilization rules.

The United Labor Policy Committee today will discuss this problem and Labor's present boycott of the entire mobilization program.

Price Controller Michael DiSalle, meanwhile, plans to issue today an order allowing a slight price boost for manufacturers of woolen rugs and carpets.

Office of Price Stabilization officials said this is to take care of a rise in the price of raw wool, most of which is imported. Later in the week, DiSalle intends to announce twin orders regulating profit margins on "dry groceries" at both retail and wholesale levels.

Dry groceries includes processed foods—canned meats, vegetables and fruits, dry cereals, cake and pancake mixes, syrups, a large list of other items, and even some perishables.

OPS officials said the processed food orders probably will be completed by Wednesday. However, it will take the agency two or three days to arrange for proper notification of grocery-men and the public.

PROPPED UP ON PILLOWS, Judith Banks, 10, plays a tune on piano in her Los Angeles home. She was paralyzed when an Army school bus ran over her in Germany in 1947. The U. S. House of Representatives has approved a $25,000 appropriation for her treatment. Judith's father, E. T. Banks is a civilian employee at Fort MacArthur.

PMA-SCS 'Marriage' Here Ordered By Ag Chieftains

"Marriage" of Pickaway County's Production and Marketing Administration (PMA) and Soil Conservation Service (SCS) is now underway.

Little change in the physical aspects of the merger will be seen here, according to first reports. There will be no change in personnel and the main task in Pickaway County will be getting the two agencies under a single roof.

The county PMA committee includes John Boggs, chairman, Dewey Downs and Ralph May.

Soil Conservation District supervisors are Ralph May, chairman, Paul J. Hay, Paul G. Peck, Wells Wilson and Lawrence Lis-

Lausche Budget Study To Start In Legislature

COLUMBUS, March 12—The Ohio Legislature will begin to determine this week—its eleventh week of sessions—just how it intends to spend the $729 million provided in Governor Lausche's executive budget.

Rep. J. Frank McClure (R-Ashland), Loudounville insurance executive who heads the house finance committee, called in three elective officers to testify on their requests this week.

The secretary of state and attorney general will present their cases to the committee tomorrow, and, if sufficient time remains, the bureau of code revision also will testify. Wednesday the auditor's office will be considered.

McClure himself admitted that the $729 million figure couldn't be considered accurate. In fact, in an address before the Association of Ohio Municipalities, he cited published reports that rotary expenditures might boost

Red Planes Challenge Yank Jets

2 MIG-15s Lost When They Collide

TOKYO, March 12—United Nations troops gained up to nearly three miles in Korea today as two Russian-type jet planes were destroyed and at least six others damaged during spectacular dogfights with American jets.

A Monday night U.S. Fifth Airforce announcement said the two enemy MIG-15 jets were demolished in midair when they collided with each other while attempting a bullet-spitting pass at an F-80 Shooting Star.

The incident occurred during a 10-minute, 600-mile-per-hour air battle in which at least four other Communist jet fighters were damaged by F-80 pilots. The whirling engagement broke out over Korea's Sinuiju northwest corner when four of the American Shooting Stars attacked 16 of the enemy's backswep-winged jets.

It followed a Monday morning air battle touched off over Sinuiju, on the Manchurian border, when 30 of the Soviet-type fighters attacked 12 U.S. F-86 Sabre-jets.

THE SABREJET pilots reported damage to at least two of the MIGs as they forced the enemy planes to streak back to Manchuria's "privileged sanctuary."

As large-scale air fighting flared anew, the UN's hard-slugging ground forces rammed a triple-headed assault area within five miles and big gun range of the Red mountain bastion of Hongchon in a steady drive against the reeling foe.

One UN spearhead lashed within 25 miles of Parallel 38.

Top UN field commanders said the Allied forces have "let a lot of air out of the inflated balloon" of Red China's military might.

Eighth Army headquarters announced Monday night that the UN ground forces had inflicted an additional 3,030 Red casualties Sunday. This swelled to nearly 35,000 the number of enemy soldiers knocked out in the first five days of the giant new UN offensive launched last Wednesday.

The Eighth Army's nightly communique told of average Allied gains of 1,000 to 3,000 yards along the central and western

Kirkersville Bank Bandits Sought By Police Crews

The Kirkersville Savings Bank south of Newark was held up Monday by two bandits who later eluded Columbus police aiding the area-wide roadblock.

All city police and county sheriff's aides in Pickaway County were alerted and set up roadblocks in this vicinity.

A lone gunman entered the bank at 8:45 a. m., before opening time, and forced employees to hand over $180.

The state highway patrol said the bandit apparently missed getting large amounts of paper money.

Columbus police said they chased a blue-green auto east of Columbus but, after the car spotted a roadblock, it reversed its course and succeeded in eluding the cruiser.

A radio silence was ordered for all patrol cars participating in the roadblock to leave the air clear for emergency calls.

Mrs. Martha Hite, clerk in a store across the street from the bank, said she saw two men drive off in the blue-green car on Route 40 toward Columbus.

One man was described as about 35, black hair and wearing a tan topcoat. The second man was not described.

The state highway patrol said the license on the car was issued to a Springfield vehicle.

If War Ends At Parallel, It Means Victory For United Nations, General Ridgway Believes

IN KOREA, March 12—Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway said today that if the Korean war ends at the 38th Parallel "it would be a tremendous victory for the United Nations" because of the damage already inflicted on Red China's military prestige.

The U. S. Eighth Army commander, who heads all UN ground forces in Korea, added however that he knows of no plan to terminate hostilities at the artificial dividing line between South and North Korea toward which his troops now are driving.

Though he disclosed that Communist casualties are running more than 50 to one in comparison with those of the UN forces, Ridgway cautioned against any optimistic thinking that the war will end soon.

"I do not believe the enemy has been routed," the general told front line correspondents as he toured the blazing central sectors where his spearheads have lanced within 25 miles of Parallel 38.

Ridgway informed the news conference that Gen. Douglas

MacArthur, during his visit to the Korean front last week, had warned him about the "Oriental conception of time."

"There is a timelessness about the Oriental," Ridgway said. "He is willing to bide his time. It would not make much difference to China if she had to wait six or eight months or much longer if she could ultimately destroy our forces."

But the Eighth Army chief hastened to point out: "If Communist China failed to drive us into the sea, it would be a defeat for her of incalculable importance."

Referring to Red China's military troubles, the top UN field commander declared:

"The degree to which we deflate her military reputation, to that degree we influence the thinking of millions and millions of people in Asia."

"Eventually, it must react on the political action of their (Chinese Communist) government. Thus, it would be of tremendous importance."

Ridgway's statement that the UN could score a "tremendous victory" in Korea without necessarily crossing the parallel again to occupy the entire country elicited keen interest among the newsmen to whom he spoke.

The general made it clear he believes a negotiated peace with the Reds, following their heavy loss of prestige south of the parallel, would be a vital defeat to Communism in Asia.

A similar line of thinking was apparent in recent statements by MacArthur who said there might be valid political reasons to halt the UN advance at the parallel, though that question now is "academic" from the military standpoint.

fronts against "diminishing" Red resistance.

MECHANIZED U.S. First Cavalry Division powered its way forward 5,000 more yards up the road from Yongdu to within five miles of Hongchon.

As the cavalry troopers drove on the Chinese Red keystone base from the southwest, Greek troops gained more than 5,000 yards in a push up the American left flank.

British, Canadian and Australian units rammed up through the mountains toward Hongchon from the south, while U.S. First Marine Division forces gained more than a mile in their drive on the vital enemy stronghold from the southeast.

In the west section of the front, U.S. 24th Division paratroopers landed on the mountain as 4,500 yards, with enemy resistance in that area reported "light everywhere."

Before the relentless Allied drive, Chinese and North Korean troops continued rolling back to new defense positions closer to Parallel 38, the imaginary northern border of South Korea. Enemy rearward resistance varied from light to stiff at different points of the churning front.

In strenuous efforts to replace their huge losses, the Red invaders risked their precious vehicles under daylight Allied air attack to move fresh men and supplies to the fighting sectors.

THE IMPORTANT mid-Korean enemy pivot of Hongchon was brought within range of heavy artillery of two American divisions and other UN troops converged on the mountain hub. They smashed at the depleted forces of four Chinese army corps.

British, Canadian and Australian units scored weekend gains totalling six miles as they drove upon Hongchon from the south. One of these columns pounded by dawn Monday to within five miles of the four-way rail and highway junction, 22 miles south of Parallel 38.

Local Police Aid In Grab Of Man, 27

Cincinnati police participated in an extensive chase last weekend to round up a Clarksburg motorist for Chillicothe police.

City cops were alerted by Chillicothe authorities late Saturday that an auto containing a man wanted by them was headed north on Route 23 toward Cincinnati.

Both city cruisers were put into use in the chase when the auto was spotted coming into Cincinnati.

Blocked by a train at the South Court street crossing, the fleeing auto turned off onto Walnut street, one of the men leaping out. Shots into the air by the police failed to halt the fleeing man, although the driver of the auto was taken into custody.

Later, at about 6 a. m. Sunday, police took the other man, identified as Ralph Houser, 27, of Clarksburg Route 1, into custody as he entered a southend restaurant.

Houser was turned over to Chillicothe police later on an accusation of reckless operation.

Couple Given Terms In Jail

A Greenfield couple was sentenced to a total of 35 days in Pickaway County jail Saturday by Juvenile Judge George D. Young.

The couple was Margaret and Raymond Cottrell. Each was found guilty of acting in a manner tending to cause the delinquency of a minor.

Judge Young fined the woman $100 and costs and sentenced her to 20 days in jail. The man was given the same fine and sentenced to 15 days. Both fines were suspended.

The new order provides for PMA committees and SCS and Forest Service personnel to plan programs jointly and work together more closely, although it does not combine agencies. The secretary directed SCS and PMA committees to work with local soil conservation districts in developing local conservation programs and policies under which the two federal agencies work.

SOIL CONSERVATION districts, which operate under state enabling acts, have been invited by the secretary to take an equal responsibility with federal personnel in planning and carrying out the program in the county.

Ike Eyes A-Bomb, Says Reds Fools To Start War

Ev Eisenhower appealed for a unified U. S. on European defense measures and told Congress that otherwise it "might as well assign me to the middle of the Atlantic."

Outlining his position on atomic bombing, Eisenhower said:

"To my mind, the use of the atomic bomb would be on this basis: Does it advantage me or does it not when I get into war?"

"Now if I felt that the material destruction that I was going to accomplish was not equal to some moral or great reaction otherwise to this act, then I would abstain."

"If I thought the net was on my side, I would use it instantly because I proceed from this basis: The United States is not going to declare war or conduct an aggressive campaign."

"It is going merely to defend itself, and if someone, in spite of its peaceful purposes, jumps onto it, I believe in using what we have in defending ourselves."

Firemen Here Get Two Calls

Cincinnati firemen were called out twice last weekend, once for an auto fire and once to deliver emergency treatment.

The firemen were called first at about 8 p. m. Saturday to East Mound street, where an emergency brake in an auto operated by Mrs. James Moffitt was reported burning.

Second call came at about 1:30 p. m. Sunday, when the firemen were summoned to give emergency aid to a youngster in Gallaher drug store. The youngster was treated and returned to his home by the firemen.

Criminal Cases Are Heard Here By County Judge

Five criminal cases have been disposed of in Pickaway County common pleas court by Judge William D. Radcliff.

The judge sentenced Eugene Waggoner, 20, of Columbus to 1-15 years in Ohio State Reformatory in Mansfield. He pleaded guilty last Sept. 22 to a grand jury indictment for breaking and entering an uninhabited building at night.

County Prosecutor Guy Cline declined to take further action on the cases of Fred Steinbrugg, 65, and William Greenwald.

Steinbrugg is on parole from Ohio State penitentiary. A parole officer is expected to arrive in Cincinnati Friday to determine whether the man will be returned to the penitentiary.

Greenwald is currently serving a term in Ohio Reformatory. Judge Radcliff fined William Duey, 59, of Cincinnati Route 4 $200 and costs after he pleaded guilty to a grand jury indictment for drawing a check without sufficient funds in the bank.

The judge placed Josephine Millstead, 32, of near Washington C. H. on probation for three years. She pleaded guilty to grand jury indictments for forgery and uttering a forged instrument.

TERMS OF HER probation are that she break no laws, have no checks in her possession or keep a checking account, make restitution to the injured parties and report once a month to Pickaway County prosecuting attorney.

The case of Patsy Ruth Hall against Nelson Bell Jr. has been transferred to common pleas court from the court of Magistrate Oscar Root.

Bell pleaded innocent before Magistrate Root to an accusation of bastardy contained in an affidavit signed by Miss Hall. Bell was placed under $500 bond. No date has been set for hearing.

Officer Orville Caldwell reported a 15-year-old boy "jerked open the rear door" of the theater, in company of the two other boys.

The boys were arrested at about 9:15 p. m. When questioned, one of the boys told Caldwell he "found out how it was done from a boy named... at Pud's Place."

The trio is slated to be processed here late Monday.

Tipton Starts Fourth Term

Pickaway County Auditor Fred Tipton began his fourth term in office Monday after being sworn in last week by Common Pleas Judge William D. Radcliff.

Only change in office personnel was the dismissal of Ned Dresbach, who had worked as a deputy auditor for 14 years.

Tipton said the reason for the dismissal was that Dresbach "had been looking for another job."

In View Of The News

By J. C. Oestreicher
INS Foreign Director

The United States, Great Britain and France have made a place for Western Germany in the family of nations and there is considerable speculation today as to the extent this will contribute to ultimate German unity.

This is the goal of the Western Powers. They want divided Germany welded into a single nation, with a Democratic form of government chosen by free elections.

The time chosen for announcement that West Germany is being permitted to establish diplomatic relations with friendly nations was significant.

The move has been in the making for months. But the Western Powers timed the formalities to coincide with the second day of Big Four deputies' consultations in Paris. They served as a reminder to the Soviet delegation of these facts:

1—The West German Federal Republic at Bonn is the only German regime recognized by the Democratic world.

2—It is being given increasing autonomy in preparation for the signing of a peace treaty.

3—If Soviet Russia persists in maintaining an arbitrary division of Germany, the West will proceed on the assumption that East Germany has isolated itself from Democratic contacts by remaining within the Communist political and military orbit.

SO FAR AS WEST German prestige is concerned, the Allied step is of vast importance.

It may go a long way toward galvanizing German enthusiasm for participation in West German defense and collaboration in international cooperative schemes such as the Schuman Plan to merge the iron and coal resources of France and Germany.

Mayor Ernst Reuter of Western Berlin, who has been on a lecture tour of the United States, has made clear on a number of occasions the importance of Western encouragement in the future of Germany.

His own reception has been stressed in the German press as an example of the manner in which the twice-defeated Reich is attaining equality with her former neighbors.

Reds Execute 'Secret Agents'

HONG KONG, March 12—A new wave of executions of anti-Communist Chinese in Canton was reported today.

The pro-Communist news-paper Wen Wei Pao in Hong Kong said 45 Chinese, among them several former Nationalist army commanders and magistrates, were executed.

The Communists termed those executed "secret agents working against the revolution of the Chinese people," instigated by the United States and Nationalist Leader Chiang Kai-shek.

Trim And Slim Waist Sported By President

KEY WEST, Fla., March 12—A sun-bronzed President happily patted his receding tummy today and bragged to his intimates of his new and slim waistline.

Exercise and light diet have brought President Truman's weight down by three pounds in the first week of his three-week Florida vacation.

The President now weighs 176 pounds, a few pounds heavier than his target of reduction, but the President is proud of his gradually flattening out tummy.

Mr. Truman hopes to slim down to about 172 pounds before he leaves Key West March 23 to return to Washington.

The President's physician, Brig. Gen. Wallace Graham, places the Truman "good" weight at between 172 and 176 pounds, so that the President has now reached 'he topmost figure.

The President hasn't missed a morning thus far taking a brisk mile or two-mile walk around the submarine base, with sometimes a few blocks stroll along the sidewalks of the village, usually virtually deserted at the early morning hour.

The President has acquired a deep red tan during his first week here. He appears rested and relaxed.

When Nasty Colds Leave You WEAK AND RUNDOWN HADACOL CAN HELP

If Your System Lacks Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, Which HADACOL Contains

When a nasty cold leaves you in a weakened and run-down condition, HADACOL can help build you up if your system is lacking in Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, important elements contained in HADACOL. Many folks have found that this fine family formula helps overcome these deficiencies and soon they feel good again.

Mrs. A. Jimenez, 141 East 13th St., Port Arthur, Texas, gave HADACOL to her young son, Floyd, after he had recovered from a bad cold when she heard how HADACOL was helping folks suffering from deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. It helped him so much in regaining his strength and energy that Mrs. Jimenez says she is always going to have HADACOL on hand for Floyd.

Here is Mrs. Jimenez's statement: "My son Floyd was very subject to colds. He's eleven years old, and he was rundown, didn't seem to have an appetite at all and just simply lacked energy. I heard about HADACOL on the radio, and it was

RESISTANCE TO MOSCOW
WHATEVER value the iron curtain may have is to put a screen between the internal troubles of the Russian empire and the remainder of the world. At the moment it doesn't seem to be working very efficiently.

The mounting troubles within the spreading confines of aggressive Russia are too violent to be hidden.

Russia is purging tens of thousands in Czechoslovakia, including a former official who came to power under Stalin when freedom fell. All along the line through Middle Europe the underground is at work.

Spurred by the example of Tito in Yugoslavia, people in Poland, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria, Austria and Albania are making bold to depart from the Moscow line. Farther West in Italy and France, where Russia has no direct controls, the communists are splitting along the line of whether Moscow is to boss them fully or not.

In this there is a hope and a danger. The hope is that the Russian empire is already too unwieldy to function and will fall apart. The danger is that the dictators in the Kremlin will decide the solution is more sweeping controls in the form of military invasion and attempted conquest of all of Europe.

In any event, the Moscow way is doomed. The Russian system of despotism is hated in the world, and the more Russia expands by infiltration or violence, the higher its troubles will mount. There is nothing further to be gained by Russia in any direction, and only grief for the whole world if Russia tried to expand its impossible system further.

WAR NEWS IS BETTER
THE prospect of war is less apparent at the moment. Things are going better in Korea, although American casualties have mounted to more than 52,000, including more than 17,000 killed and missing.

Chinese communists have been badly mauled by increased U. S. firepower. Apparently Moscow wants Washington to believe the Kremlin would not be completely averse to engaging in palaver sometime in the future.

Preparedness efforts in the United States are making some progress. As a result there is more confidence and less defeatism in London, Paris and other capitals of the free world.

After many false starts in the direction of peace, and heavy casualties in Korea, the United States now appears to be emerging from a pall of pessimism. Why should this country fear Russia? No valid reason springs to mind.

To prevent spread of war, this nation must be prepared for whatever comes. Current good news should not slow rearmament progress.

Senatorial Probe of RFC | Congress Hopping Mad
Sure to Bring Reforms | Over Truman's Attitude

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON—The upshot of the Senate's sensational investigation of the Reconstruction Finance corporation will be some major changes in organization and perhaps even abolition of the huge lending agency as such.

The disclosures before the Senator J. William Fulbright's committee of alleged "pressure" on the RFC from persons close to the White House has senators fighting mad and they'll go along with just about any plan for reforming the agency.

President Truman's seizure of files of letters written by congressmen concerning loans didn't help soothe Congress, and it may even backfire on the chief executive who termed the present investigation "assinine."

Mr. Truman's reorganization plan to put the RFC under one man instead of the present five-member board has a good chance of winning congressional approval.

But congressmen's feelings being what they are, there's a possibility that the legislators may go even further and attempt to wipe out the RFC entirely. This suggestion has already been advanced by Senator Charles W. Tobey (R), New Hampshire.

In any case, no one is going to jail as a result of the investigation. It all boils down to the fact that reforms of the RFC—and nothing else—will result from the current headlines.

George E. Sokolsky's
These Days

In all the excitement about Europe, with such voluminous and expert testimony about how many divisions we must send to defend the Rhine and other touristic rivers, little or nothing is being said about Central or South America.

It would seem that this is the missing link in our policy. These two American continents are joined together in an association of mutual self-interest which makes for a natural alliance. Besides, we are, with increasing rapidity, recognizing that with the probable exception of diamonds, the American continents can provide all essential minerals and metals necessary for our production and defense. In fact, with sensible capital investments, the American continents could supply all the raw materials essential to our well-being.

Yet, so strong is the European tradition among us that we plunge into constantly more expensive adventures on the continent of Europe, while we ignore altogether the great riches on the American continents.

Governor Dewey's metallurgical knowledge failed him when he testified before Senator Connally's committee, for the governor seems to have forgotten the resources and reserves of Brazil and Chile in his excitement over how many divisions General Eisenhower requires, something about which Eisenhower has been discreetly silent.

Herbert Hoover, who has always been a mining engineer and a metallurgist, who wrote a classical textbook on the subject and translated another from the Latin, contested Dewey's worries in the following language:

"I presume Governor Dewey's statement was made in reply to one of mine, and Governor Dewey limited his statement to continental United States. I said that it is possible, by proper economic policy, to develop all of the necessary and critical raw materials in the Western Hemisphere. I include the whole hemisphere, and not the United States alone.

"Now, supplies of many of these critical commodities are a matter of price. For instance, if there was a sufficient price, and I do not think that it is a very much larger price, probably five cents a pound in the present buying power of money, this country could produce all of the zinc and all the lead, and the Western Hemisphere could produce all of the copper that it would require. As to uranium supplies they would be more costly, if we had to get them out of the Western Hemisphere. There is also cobalt and chromium and there are aluminum ores. They are all possible at a sufficient price. So that the argument does not run in full. It only runs to the expenditures."

So, I looked up a few facts:
Antimony ore is available in Chile, Bolivia, Peru, Honduras, the United States and Mexico.

Bauxite, from which aluminum is made, is available in British Guiana, Curacao, Jamaica, Surinam and the United States.

Bed Rest Good Treatment For the Common Cold

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

WE all know that colds are very common in the United States. Statisticians who deal in such figures estimate that there are about 250,000,000 colds in this country every year, which means that most people have at least two.

Fall and spring are the open seasons for colds, but they may occur at any time of the year though, strangely enough, they become least common during extremely cold weather.

Many things have been suggested as contributing to the development of colds, such as chilling; drafts; poor nutrition and improper diet, particularly a deficiency of vitamins A, B, and C; lowered body resistance as the result of some previous illness; infections in the tonsils and sinuses, and irritation of the lining membranes of the nose and throat from chemical substances.

Caused by Virus
It seems entirely likely that colds are caused by a virus. Hence, in preventing colds, the most important thing is the avoidance of exposure to infection. This means that all persons should avoid contact with those who are ill and should stay out of large crowds when colds are prevalent.

While a vitamin deficiency may make a person more susceptible to colds, an excess of vitamins will not protect one against colds.

Proper Rest
In treating colds, proper rest in bed is the most important measure. Exposure to drafts and chilling should be avoided. Smoking while one has a cold would seem to be inadvisable. The use of laxative drugs is of no help. Nose drops and sprays, if used in certain cases, may do more harm than good.

For many years a combination of such drugs as papaverine and codeine have seemed to bring increased comfort. Salicylates, such as aspirin, are used almost universally to lessen the misery resulting from a cold but, of course, they do not cure the infection. It would seem, also, that the so-called antihistamine drugs help to lessen discomfort, particularly that due to nasal discharge. While the antibiotic drugs, such as penicillin, do not shorten the course of a cold, they are often used in order to prevent complications, such as infections of the sinuses, tonsils, throat, or lungs.

SYNOPSIS
Impending war (1812), Rhoda, his maid, with his Tory brother, Alex, the unexpected visit of his winsome niece, Jennet, combine to complicate Quint Darby's life as he pioneers on the Niagara border, across from Canada. The loss of his arm is another handicap. He dreams of building merchant ships. He fears for Jennet's safety here, is greatly alarmed when she openly and ardently admires a handsome half-breed Indian, named Peter Brant. But more and more Quint finds himself turning for escape to this lovely girl. Spies are infesting the country, and Darby's eccentric lodger, one Pettibone, falls under suspicion. The frontier wonders on which side the Mohawk Indians will fight. It was actually strikes. Because of his Tory kin, Darby's own loyalty to country is questioned, and he becomes fighting mad.

CHAPTER TWELVE
QUINT and Jennet rode off to Mistress Sabrina's in the early afternoon. Jennet wore the gray dress, a loose cape over it, her head bare. A heavy load had just come in and a half-dozen men stood on the stoop before the tavern. Quint felt their eyes hard on Jennet as she rode with him out of the tavern yard.

They followed the Guidepost road, so narrow and potted with deep mudholes that they had to pick their way slowly. "Very different from Greenlands," observed Quint.

"Yes, it is," Quint saw some sadness touch the girl's face. "It's—raver. As if it were all just being made. Everything around Greenlands was old."

"You loved Greenlands very much, didn't you, child?"

"Oh, yes! Until Hagar died..." I hated New York City where I couldn't walk a step without a chaperone—I hated my schools. I'd count the days until a holiday. If Father didn't instantly say I could go to Greenlands, I'd pretend I was falling into a decline—like my mother, and he'd send me to Greenlands and Hagar."

"Your mother, Jennet—I haven't heard you speak of her since you've been here."

"There was nothing to say. My mother always was ill. There'd be days and days when I couldn't go into her room. She'd see only her doctor. She'd never go to Greenlands—it was too far from her doctor. She never seemed real to me—Hagar seemed more my mother. I felt worse when Hagar died..." If Hagar was not there, I didn't mind so much that Father sold Greenlands."

"And I've thought of my brother's children living on there and their children after them. Didn't Richard protest it?"

"Richard!" A world of scorn rang in Jennet's voice. She did not need to say more.

They had come to the small clearing cut out of the forest, where stood Mistress Sabrina's cabin. Sabrina was outside, on her knees, planting seeds.

She got to her feet as they reined in the horses. She wore a man's trousers tucked into clumsy boots, a man's wool shirt.

"Oh, it's you," she said as Quint dismounted. But there was warmth in the curt greeting.

She looked then at Jennet. "Is that the girl you're bringing?"

"No, this is my niece—my brother's child, come recently to the frontier. She had a wish to meet you."

Jennet had dismounted. Sabrina's keen eyes went over her searchingly, then a glimmer of a smile came into them. "She is like you."

"Like me—with my face?"

"I wasn't looking at her face," retorted Sabrina. "Come inside. The sun is hot."

"But we're taking you from your planting. Herbs, I suppose..."

"They can wait." She led the way to the cabin door, a dignity in her bearing, for all her incongruous dress.

Quint doubted that Jennet ever before had been in such a primitive dwelling. There were no feminine touches about it pretty; the small windows were bare of curtains, the floor of covering; a built-in bed in a corner, two wooden tables, a chair and a stool were its furnishings. At each side of the big fireplace were cupboards, over the fireplace rested a beam, ready at hand. From two beams overhead and against the walls hung bunches of dried herbs, which filled the room with a curious fragrance, half-bitter, half-sweet.

"How is the health of the community, Mistress Sabrina? I've told my niece how you ride about curing ills."

Sabrina was opening one of the cupboards. She took an earthen jug from it, stood looking down at it in her hands. "It is good. It will be a good springtime. Crops will seed fast and grow, oxen will fatten, the young orchards will blossom..." She looked up then, and at Quint, a somber intendment in her gaze. "But come summer..."

Quint said quickly, "Now, now, Mistress Sabrina, don't spoil what you've said with any dark predictions!"

Mistress Sabrina filled two small mugs, gave one to Jennet, one to Quint. "Your wild cherry wine?" asked Quint. "You honor us!" He lifted his mug. "I suggest a toast to that prosperity of which you spoke!"

"And to the new ship," added Jennet.

"Yes, drink," said Mistress Sabrina, still somber of face.

They did not stay long; Quint knew better than to do so. As they were taking their leave Sabrina asked, "The other girl—don't wait long to bring her."

"Two weeks or so. Just now she is company for my niece."

The old woman turned to Jennet, regarded her gravely for a long moment, then touched her cheek with a rough forefinger. "The pretty singing bird best not nest where winds are harsh!"

Quint reflected as they rode off that he might have made a mistake in letting Jennet meet Mistress Sabrina. Jennet might think Sabrina a witch-woman, in which case, she'd scarcely win Becky over from her fears.

But the moment they were out of earshot Jennet exclaimed, "Uncle Quint, she's like our Hagar! The way she talks... Hagar was always drying herbs, remember? Fixing awful doses from them to take."

Quint laughed, remembering those doses.

"Don't you think it's strange, Uncle Quint, that she lives there alone? She must have someone, somewhere. Doesn't anyone know anything about her past?" pressed Jennet.

"I haven't heard that she has confided it to anyone. Most leave their pasts behind them when they come to a frontier."

"Just as you did."

"Until you came along and brought much of it back to me."

"You're not sorry I came?"

"He smiled at her, affectionately. "No, No, I'm not sorry."

They were approaching a point where a trail through the forest crossed the road. It offered a shortcut to the Buffalo village. Quint pulled up his horse. "I've business in the Buffalo village, Jennet. From here, you'll easily find your way back..."

"Uncle Quint, can't I go with you? Aunt Rhoda's told me that there are shops there, more people about..."

"Some other day. Today I must give my time to talking to Judge Merriam. Can I trust you not to lose yourself?"

Jennet gave a toss of her head, a little laugh.

"I've never gotten myself lost in New York City or Greenlands." He watched her ride on, then turned into the trail. So assured was he of her safety that he dismissed her from his mind, to give it over fully to his coming meeting with Judge Merriam.

It was not far through the forest and soon Quint came to the outskirts of the Buffalo settlement. Here were houses, closer together, some of logs, some of planks, some with grass lawns and small shrubs around them.

He came to the shops, built wall to wall, and flush with the wooden sidewalk. Near by was the printing establishment of the Gazette, the weekly newswheet. A group of men were gathered before a printed notice nailed on the door. Quint dismounted to read it.

Over the shoulders of the other men he read: "Annual Inspection of County Militia on May First at Two O'Clock, on Terrace. All Members are Requested to Come with Muskets."

It was signed, "By order of Gen'l Peter Potter."

Once a year the militia met for this inspection, but it was usually on the Fourth of July and part of the general frolic held in celebration of that all-important day. Why in May?

Some of the group were voicing the question that was in Quint's mind. No one knew the answer.

Judge Merriam's office was over a shop a little way along. Quint walked his horse the distance, tied him to a post and climbed a flight of steep stairs to the room above.

How can we have a war with $95 billion poured into such peace efforts by the two leading opponents?

No other two countries can point with such pride to such a sturdy financial effort to prevent war as these enormous budgets to buy arms.

Nothing but an error or slight miscalculation could get us in trouble while these two nations spend so grandly for peace.

Most people we know don't need any help with their income tax return—just with their income.

But you have a couple more days and remember, the government wants only what's coming to it. That takes care of everything.

120 Girls And Escorts
Attend Local School's Annual Sweetheart Dance

Betty Helwagen
Is Named Queen

A large blue and silver heart shaped chandelier hovered over the dancers in Circleville high school social rooms Friday evening.

The occasion was the annual SOS (Service Over Self) Sweetheart Dance which has been a high point in local school extra-curricular activities for several years.

About 120 girls and their escorts attended the invitational affair sponsored by the Senior SOS which extends bids to the Junior SOS girls, their dates and to the officers of the last year.

The SOS Club has as its adviser Miss Elma Rains while the junior girls are advised by Mrs. Truman Eberly.

Chaperones for the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Eberly, Miss Rains and the high school principal, J. Wray Henry.

Blue and silver color scheme was also used in making the programs given to each girl which were blue booklets fashioned as hearts, lettered in silver.

Cover of the booklet had a small window which opened to show a boy and girl silhouetted against a white background.

The climax of the affair came with the crowning of Miss Betty Helwagen as queen.

The identity of the queen is a closely-guarded secret from the time she is selected by secret ballot of her sister club members until it is revealed at the dance.

Miss Helwagen was crowned by Marlene Steele, chairman of the throne committee and led to the blue and silver throne at the East end of the room where she was presented a bouquet of crimson roses by Barbara Campbell. Miss Campbell is a member of the throne committee which also includes Pat Wellington and Charlotte Rader.

Music for the dance was played by the "Starlighters" who were chosen by members of the music committee, Jo Ann Lewis, Thelma Wise and Ann Thompson.

Responsible for the decorations were chairman Eleanor Lewis and Betty Matz, Charlotte McConnell, Janet Grant and Anne Barr.

In charge of the "snacks" served were chairman Nancy Held and Ruth Grubb, Jo Ann Seymour and Margaret Green.

Since the girls invited the boys to the dance the girls also purchased the tickets which were handled by Miss Helwagen and her committee including Doris Edgington, Anne Downing and Ruth Stiers.

Chairman Marjorie Thornton and her committee Nancy Goodchild, Beverly Reid and Fern Wise were responsible for the evening's program.

Publicity for the event was handled by chairman Ruth Hill with the help of Juanita Hill and Nancy Bower.

After the ball was over a committee headed by Jackie Smith took over—the clean-up committee. Jackie was aided by Jackie Turner, Hazel Thomas, Beverly Thomas and Pat Connelly.

General chairman for the dance was Frances Hoffman.

AMAZING NEW LYDIA PINKHAM'S TABLETS

GIVE WONDROUS RELIEF FROM DISTRESS OF 'CHANGE OF LIFE'

Successful in over 79% of cases in relieving distressing symptoms due to this functional cause

Don't fail to read about this new, modernized formula — the like of which has never before been made available to women in their 40's

Here's news about a sensational new medical formula which should fill your hearts with joy if you are between the ages of 38 and 52 and suffer from hot flashes, then chilly feelings, nervous tension, irritability and miserable weak, tired, "dragged-out" feelings — due to this functional "middle-age" cause.

It's the amazing NEW, modernized Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS! In medical tests these sensational NEW Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS gave spectacular relief in over 79% of the cases. Isn't that convincing? In fact, the renowned Lydia Pinkham Medicine Company — a pioneer in products for women since 1870 — considers these NEW Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS by far the greatest and most effective formula they've ever developed!

Why These Tablets Are So Effective

NEW Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS are a most effective uterine sedative which works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system to bring this wondrous welcome relief and help her go "smiling through" such middle-age distress. Taken regularly, Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS help build up resistance against such symptoms.

Also Wonderful for Women Who Lack Red Blood Cells Due to Secondary Anemia

The NEW Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS are also one of the greatest blood-iron tonics you can buy

If you are pale, weak, tired, because you're a victim of secondary anemia. They are one of the best home ways to help build up red blood to get more strength and energy in such cases.

Again, in medical tests it was shown these sensational NEW Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS have an excellent hematopoietic effect and greatly benefited women suffering from secondary anemia (lack of red blood cells). COOKBOOK of the WEEK

From the Collection of 24 of THE WORLD'S GREATEST COOKBOOKS

Sponsored by this Newspaper

Here is an especially good dish with two special merits: It puts needed nourishment into the youngsters in the form of butter, eggs and milk, and it can be made of leftover cooked peas.

It is just one of many delicious and attractive ways of using health-giving dairy foods that can be found in "300 Healthful Dairy Dishes," eighteenth title in the 24 cookbook series currently being made available to readers of The Circleville Herald.

GREEN PEA RING

2 tablespoons butter
1/4 cup flour
1 1/2 cups milk
1 cup pureed cooked green peas
2 eggs, separated
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
1 recipe Creamed Mushrooms

Melt butter and blend in flour; add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in pureed peas, beaten egg yolks, salt and pepper. Beat egg whites until stiff and fold lightly but thoroughly into mixture. Turn into oiled (6-cup) ring mold and bake in moderate oven (325 deg. F.) for 45 to 50 minutes. Loosen sides and turn out on large platter. Pour creamed mushrooms in center and serve immediately. Serves 5 or 6.

CREAMED MUSHROOMS

1 pound fresh mushrooms
1 1/2 cups milk
1/2 teaspoon grated onion
3/4 teaspoon salt
Dash white pepper
2 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour

Wash and slice mushrooms and cook in 1 cup of the milk with onion, salt, pepper and butter for 10 to 15 minutes or until tender. Blend flour with remaining milk until smooth and add to boiling mixture, stirring constantly. Cook until thickened. Serve in center of hot pea ring. Serves 4 to 6.

MUSHROOMS A LA KING—Add 1/2 cup sliced stuffed olives and 1 hard-cooked egg, diced to Creamed Mushrooms.

Like all the other books in the series, the Dairy Book is full of unusual and tasty recipes and the beautiful photographic illustrations give added ideas and suggestions for attractive ways of serving commonplace foods. All you need do to get your copy of the Dairy Book is present 15 cents to your independent grocery in Circleville.

AFFAIR TO START MARCH 19

Farm, Home Week Agenda Worked Out In Columbus

Members of the Agricultural Extension Service at Ohio State University are polishing the "welcome mat" for the thirty-ninth time for the thousands of Ohioans expected for the annual Farm and Home Week.

Dates of the event this year are Monday, March 19, through Thursday, March 22 four busy days of lectures, demonstrations, panels, exhibits, and other items of interest designed to portray the theme "Agriculture in the World Crisis."

Upon arriving at the university campus, visitors will receive a complete program when they register. This program will give the exact hour and place of each meeting.

Registration stands will be located in Townshend Hall, Plumb Hall, Poultry Building, Ives Hall, Horticulture and Forestry Building, Campbell Hall, and Botany and Zoology Building.

Headquarters will be in Townshend Hall, where visitors may meet friends, register, obtain programs, check baggage, use telephone, find rest rooms, and obtain other information.

A LIST OF ROOMS for rent near the university will be available in Townshend Hall. Office

Ohio Wesleyan Takes Stock Of Its Alumni

DELAWARE, March 12—Ohio Wesleyan university took stock of its alumni today and found it has produced one vice-president of the United States, 12 U.S. senators, nine governors, 15 foreign ambassadors and 256 graduates in government service.

The university, which was founded by the Methodist church in 1842, also came up with statistics of its contributions to fields outside of government.

In education, Ohio Wesleyan claims it has produced 105 college presidents, 400 university deans and professors, 200 high school principals and 2,369 teachers in grade and high schools.

In the ministry, the university has supplied 18 Methodist bishops, 1,201 ministers, 311 foreign missionaries and 254 social workers.

The survey also shows that 846 OWU graduates went into journalism, 882 into law, 1,410 into medicine, 3,305 into business, 434 into engineering and science, 389 into agriculture and 180 into fine arts.

But the biggest and most popular classification of all, the school says, has been filled by former coeds. Some 9,582 women graduates are registered, according to the survey, as "housewife."

Tax Collector Sad; No More Nasty Memos

CHICAGO, March 12—Paying income taxes never was fun but collecting them—which once had its rewards—now is a dull job too because the taxpayer apparently was turned sullen.

That is the complaint of Chief Cashier John A. Wheeler of the internal revenue collector's office in Chicago, who says the suffering taxpayers no longer send him bitter little mementoes—just money.

"It used to be an every-day occurrence for the taxpayers to send us their eye teeth, a picture of the shirt off their back or a bundle of Chinese money," Wheeler said.

Today, Wheeler laments, he finds nothing but checks inside envelopes.

Once in a while people forget to sign the checks they enclose, but that's only accidental and means a lot of work.

Wheeler wistfully recalls the taxpayer who enclosed his house keys with his return, writing: "Take these. You have everything else of mine."

Liner Batory Is Unwelcome

NEW YORK, March 12—New York City has pulled down the welcome sign as concerns the Polish Liner Batory because it "presents risks to our security."

The ship is the one on which Gerhardt Eisler fled American justice. He is propaganda minister now in Communist East Germany.

First, the French Line said the Batory could no longer use its pier after March 30 because of its own increasing traffic. Then, New York Commissioner of Marine and Aviation Edward F. Cavanaugh Jr. said the liner could not use city-owned piers and was unwelcome in the harbor.

Auto Dealers Warned To Get Price List Set

New and used car dealers in Central Ohio, under the Columbus district Office of Price Stabilization, were warned Friday they have less than two weeks to submit names of pricing standards books they intend to use to comply with ceiling regulations for auto sales.

District Director Edward F. Wagner said all new and used car dealers under his jurisdiction must "indicate by official letter no later than March 22 the used car 'bible' which will be each individual dealer's guide so long as car sales remain under ceiling regulations."

Wagner emphasized that only three guide books are acceptable for the Columbus district. He identified them as: NADA Official Used Car Guide, January 1951 issue; Red Book National Used Car Market Report, January 1951 issue; and, Blue Book National Used Car Market Report, January 1951 issue.

Each dealer should make his designation of the guide selected by his firm in writing to the Columbus district office on his official stationery, Wagner said. If the designation is not in the hands of the OPS by March 22, Wagner said, then the dealers have automatically violated ceiling regulations pertaining to used car sales.

323,973 Japs Still Prisoners

TOKYO, March 12—The Russian government still holds 323,973 Japanese war prisoners in custody today, according to a Japanese official spokesman.

The spokesman told a parliamentary committee also that 57,355 Japanese nationals have died in Soviet prisoner of war camps since World War II.

The Soviet government has claimed that all Japanese captured during Russia's brief participation in the Pacific war have been released except about 10,000 who were labelled "war criminals."

Tears are salty because all the fluids in the body and all of the secretions are more or less salty.

Mr. Farmer—

Does our Farm Loan Have These Six Features?

1. Low interest rate for a long term?
2. Regular payments that cut down the principal as you go?
3. Permission to make extra payments in good years?
4. Privilege of arranging smaller payments in bad years?
5. A lender who will be in business for the life of the loan?
6. Small enough installments so you can pay them when your income drops?

YOU may secure a Federal Land Bank loan that has ALL of these features through the—

Tax Is Donated To Help U.S.

CHICAGO, March 12—An unidentified Chicago man, entitled to a $100 income tax refund, has sent the Internal Revenue Bureau a check for an additional $50 because he said he "wants to help my country."

Collector of Internal Revenue John Jarecki said the man, who earned only $1,500 last year, sent the following letter along with his check:

"In view of the war difficulties I feel I want to help my country. Therefore I waive my right to a refund, and in addition, I contribute this $50."

No Tax Report, Just Literature

NEW YORK, March 12—A Presbyterian minister says that if the United States insists he file an income report, he will submit instead a copy of the Gospels and Henry Thoreau's "Essay on Civil Disobedience."

The Rev. Abraham J. Muste, in a letter he sent to the tax collector declining to pay taxes, said he refuses to support "this armaments race."

The minister said he is the secretary of an organization called "The Peacemakers."

Cost Of Dying Must Go Up

LONDON, March 12—Alderman George Willis of Basing-Stoke Council, Surrey, wants to increase charges for burials.

Said Willis:

"The cost of dying has got to keep pace with the cost of living."

Outdoor Phone Booth Set Up At Courthouse

An experimental outdoor public telephone booth, in which no monkey business can be held is confronting visitors to Pickaway Courthouse.

It is a stainless steel, glass enclosed booth situated immediately in front of the courthouse.

Ed Jury, manager of the Circleville office of the Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co., said the new booth complies with orders of a county commissioner who gave approval of the booth by saying the building must have glass on three sides—"I don't want no monkey business in there." The booth features glass on all four sides.

Jury said a neon light is being readied for the booth to light it at night, while an automatic lighting system will be set up later.

At present, the new telephone is linked to the courthouse wiring in an overhead route. The wires will be placed underground in the near future.

Apparently thinking of Halloween antics, Jury added that the booth is securely anchored down. Although no one probably will be there to answer, the number of the new telephone is LD-17.

Jury added that the new booth

American Hens Back On Beam

WASHINGTON, March 12—The Federal Crop Reporting Board says that hens are getting back on the beam. The board reports that farm poultry flocks returned to a record rate of lay in February after falling off the pace in January.

Farm flocks laid five billion, 203 million eggs in February, about 203 million eggs more than the rate set in January.

The board at the same time says that milk production during February was down two percent from the record production of a year ago, but still the third largest total for that month at 8.5 billion pounds.

$10,000 Blaze Levels Farm

LONDON, March 12—Sparks from an electric brooder today was blamed for a $10,000 fire which destroyed a barn yesterday on the farm of a Madison County official on Route 38 ten miles north of London.

West Jefferson and London Prison Farm firemen battled the blaze on the farm of Madison County Clerk of Courts James R. Littler for four hours, but were unable to prevent loss of the barn, a truck and farm equipment stored within it. An unestimated number of hogs also were destroyed.

32 Outfits Remain In State Race

Basketball Tourney Regionals On Tap

COLUMBUS, March 12—Thirty-two weekend survivors will renew their efforts to cop Ohio's Class A and B school basketball titles in regional battles which begin tomorrow and end Saturday.

The 16 "A" finalists and 16 "B" cage crown contenders represent all that remain today of the original field of 1,152 high school quintets which started the marathon race for state honors.

Four teams in each class will emerge from battles on eight fronts this week for spots in the state finals at Columbus.

Cleveland Collinwood (14-4) and Coventry (16-5), both defeated over the weekend, meet tomorrow in a playoff for a Class A regional berth. The winner will meet Elyria (15-6) Friday as Euclid (14-8) duels with Barberton (20-1).

Class A warfare in Toledo begins Friday with a game between Columbus East (22-2) and undefeated Findlay (22). Lima Central (11-7) will meet Mansfield (22-2) and the winners will play Saturday.

FINDLAY IS ONE of the state's four unbeaten squads and the lone Class A team to boast a perfect record. Other spotless quintets include Class B Deshler (25), Waynesburg (24) and Fort Recovery (23).

Class A suffered two fatalities Saturday. Chillicothe met its first defeat in 21 games as Portsmouth registered a 53-51 decision. Steam-rolling Hamilton called a halt to Cincinnati Roger Bacon's 22-game streak by marching off a 46-41 victory.

Portsmouth (18-3) and Hamilton's Big Blue (23-1) clash in a regional encounter Friday in Troy along with Dayton Stivers (17-5) and Defending State Champion Springfield (18-5).

In Youngstown Friday, Canton McKinley (15-7) scraps with Youngstown Girard (23-2) and Martins Ferry (20-4) meets Youngstown Rayen (11-12).

Class A action Saturday saw McKinley squeeze out Canton Timken 39-38, Youngstown Girard edge Rayen 47-46 and Martins Ferry manage a 45-42 win over East Liverpool.

Euclid dumped Collinwood 39-33, Elyria defeated Lakewood 56-54 and Barberton's Magics topped Coventry 51-41.

Columbus East smashed Columbus Central 59-38, Lima Central downed Maumee 65-62 and Findlay wiped out Fremont 51-39.

SPRINGFIELD'S Wild Cats stayed in the running by thrashing West Milton 61-41 as Dayton Stivers bumped Dayton Roosevelt 42-40.

The Class B regional battle this week begins Thursday in Kent. Undefeated Waynesburg (24), which barely beat Columbiana 51-46, is paired with Sebring's Trojans. And Holmes County's Walnut Creek (25-1), which trampled Belmont 83-59 Saturday, will duel Orange (19-6).

Sebring dumped Cortland 49-37 during the weekend while the Lions humbled Greenford 46-43. Fort Recovery and Deshler, two of the state's quartet of unbeaten teams, journey to Toledo for elimination battles Thursday with Leesville (25-2) and Grand Rapids (25-2) respectively.

In weekend tilts, Deshler conquered Ottoville 49-38 and Leesville halted Sulphur Springs 55-45.

Corning (26-1) meets Ironton St. Joseph (22-4) Thursday in Athens and Ashley (24-2) duels Matamoras (27-4) the next day. Ashley hurled Marion St. Mary 65-57 over the weekend as Ironton St. Joseph beat Chesapeake 71-59 and Matamoras battered Vincent 70-47.

Marysville (19-4) is paired with Olive Branch (27-2) in a Friday "B" regional in Dayton while Lockland Wayne (17-5) squares off with Blanchester (20-1).

Lockland Wayne defeated Seven Mile 31-26 in district competition in Cincinnati Saturday; Olive Branch halted West Mansfield 51-40 in Springfield and Blanchester trounced Beaver Creek 46-29 in Xenia.

Whiz Kiddies Stage Comeback In Spring Test

MIAMI, March 12—The National League Champion Philadelphia Phillies, who did very little winning near the end of last season and none at all during the World Series, are making a Spring "comeback."

The Whiz Kids recorded their second consecutive Grapefruit League triumph yesterday when they turned back the Boston Red Sox, 4 to 2, in Sarasota, Fla.

Bubba Church, Ken Heintzelman and Robin Roberts held the Sox to six hits.

Ted Williams made his first Spring appearance and contributed a single in four trips for the American Leaguers.

The World Champion New York Yankees slugged out a 13-to-8 win over the Cleveland Indians in Phoenix, Ariz. Joe DiMaggio and Johnny Mize pinch-hit homers for the Bombers and Rookie Clint Courtney hit a three-run blast. Larry Doby connected with a four-bagger for the Indians.

Detroit's Tigers downed the Cincinnati Reds, 7 to 4, in Tampa. In St. Petersburg, the New York Giants edged the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 3.

The Brooklyn Dodgers scored five runs in the ninth to defeat the Boston Braves, 10 to 9, in Miami.

Other results: Philadelphia Athletics 3, Washington Senators 2; Chicago Cubs 5, Chicago White Sox 4; Pittsburgh Pirates 8, St. Louis Browns 5.

Truex Hoping He Is Out Of Milers' Woods

CLEVELAND, March 12—Ohio State's Len Truex, like FBI Agent Fred Wilt, hoped today that he finally is stepping out from behind the shadow cast by Don Gehrmann, the king of the nation's milers.

Truex, newest member of the exclusive "We Beat Gehrmann Club," handed the Milwaukee insurance man his second straight defeat this season in the one-mile run at the 11th Knights of Columbus track meet here Friday night. The time was 4:13.8.

Only last week Wilt finished ahead of Gehrmann in the New York K of C Games to break his string of 39 straight mile victories since the 1948 Olympic Games.

Don Laz, the sensational University of Illinois pole-vaulter star, became the third man in track history to soar above the 15-foot mark when he tied the 15 feet, one inch effort of the Rev. Bob Richards, the "vaulting vicar."

It was the first time in track history that two pole vaulters cleared the 15-foot mark in competition.

Neither could reach the cross bar however, when it was placed at 15 feet, three inches.

Cornelius Warmerdam holds the world indoor mark of 15 feet, 8 1/2 inches. Now retired, Warmerdam went over the 15-foot mark 43 times.

Ohio Conference OKs Freshmen

GRANVILLE, March 12—The Ohio Conference has rescinded the freshman rule to permit its first-year men to compete in intercollegiate athletics beginning April 1.

During a weekend meeting, the Ohio Conference also voted to accept Hiram as a new member on a one-year probationary period.

The conference action will permit freshmen who entered school in September, 1950, to play in sports April 1. Mid-Winter entries will not be eligible until next Fall, but all those who enter next September will be ready for Autumn sports.

Bum Leg Keeps Rupp In Cast

LEXINGTON, Ky., March 12—Coach Adolph Rupp, veteran basketball mentor at the University of Kentucky, has his right leg in a cast today.

The "baron of basketball" has had a series of ailments which caused his leg to swell. Doctors drained it and put it in a cast.

Jim Ferrier Wins Another

MIAMI BEACH, March 12—Jim Ferrier of San Francisco added the second major golf trophy in a week to his collection with a one-stroke victory in the $10,000 Miami Beach Open.

Ferrier collected a three-under-par 69 in the final round tour of the Normandy Isle links yesterday to complete the four-day grind in 273, just a stroke ahead of Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., and Chuck Klein of San Antonio, Tex.

A week earlier, Ferrier had established a tournament record in capturing the St. Petersburg Open. Both victories were good for $2,000 in first prize money.

Seeded Quints Await Action On NIT Agenda

NEW YORK, March 12—Seeded quintets go into action for the first time tonight in the National Invitation Basketball Tournament, and they have an uneasy eye on the darkhorse Billikins of St. Louis university.

There is no need to remind the four teams — St. John's, Brigham Young, Arizona and North Carolina State — of the unpleasant NIT tradition that unseeded entries frequently hog the show.

San Francisco did it in 1949 and City College of New York last year. Now the Billikins have emerged as definitely the class of Saturday's first round.

Brigham Young's Billikin worries are the most pressing, for the Skyline Six champions—rated fourth in the NIT—meet St. Louis in one of tonight's two games. In the other, top-seeded St. John's plays St. Bonaventure. Tomorrow, second round play concludes with North Carolina State playing Seton Hall and Arizona meeting Dayton.

ST. LOUIS EARNED the respect of tournament followers with a sparkling 73-to-61 rout of a capable La Salle team in opening play. The Billikins, paced by Ray Sonnenberg and Bob Koch, hit an even 50 per cent of their shots in the first half and were nearly as torrid the rest of the way.

Saturday's games produced the first double overtime in NIT history—with St. Bonaventure downing Cincinnati, 70 to 67, and it also highlighted some outstanding individual scoring feats. Dayton's 67 Don Meineke scored 30 points and Lawrence Tech's Blaine Denning made 27 in the Dayton Flyers' 77-to-71 defeat of the Engineers from Detroit.

And Seton Hall's gangling 6'10" Walt Dukes contributed 20 as the Pirates toppled Belmont, 71 to 57, despite Ron Bonemps' 24 for the Wisconsinites.

With the NIT struggling against the stigma of New York's basketball scandal, the opening day attendance—though off from previous years—still was encouraging.

Madison Square Garden officials announced the totals as 9,251 in the afternoon and 14,115 at night.

3 Vacancies In NCAA Meet To Be Filled

NEW YORK, March 12—The three vacancies for the eastern regionals of the NCAA's basketball tournament are expected to be filled today.

Asa Bushnell, chairman of the eastern selection committee, indicated the field will be completed for the tourney, which is slated to begin at New York's Madison Square Garden and in Raleigh, N. C., March 20.

Possibilities for the three vacant spots include Villanova (24-5), Connecticut (22-3), Holy Cross (20-5), Louisville (19-6), Toledo (22-7), Cincinnati (18-4), Seton Hall (23-5) and St. Bonaventure (19-5).

The rest of the eastern half of the tournament is comprised of Columbia (22-0), Illinois (19-3), St. John's (22-3), Kentucky (27-2), and North Carolina State (28-4).

In the western half, slated to get underway March 21 in Kansas City, all eight spots are filled or reserved for a playoff winner.

The only spot open is in the Southwest Conference where Texas and Texas A. and M. are engaged in a playoff.

The Aggies have a one-game lead in their best two-of-three series which will see the second game played tonight in Austin.

Teams already in this section of the tourney are Kansas State (21-3), Arizona (24-4), Brigham Young (24-7), San Jose State (18-11), Montana State (22-12), Oklahoma A. and M. (27-4), and Washington (22-5).

Cochampionship Darby Trojans Are Feted

Darby Trojans basketball team, co-champions of the county league this season, was honored last week with its annual athletic banquet.

Carl Bennett was toastmaster for the program, while Chet Long, Columbus newscaster, served as guest speaker. Athletic awards were made during the banquet by Coach Dale Rockhold and accepted by Captain John Riddle, while County Superintendent George D. McDowell presented remarks.

Members of the varsity team honored were Riddle, Cliff Chafin, Walter Kreider, Jim Grabill, Charles Bayes, Paul Downs, Ronald Kennard and Robert Downs.

DARBY'S CHAMPIONSHIP reserve team also was honored. They were Paul Jackson, Ronnie Borror, Jerry Musselman, Jim McPherson, Roger Connell, Bob Drummond, Bob Manning, Amos Blevins and Charles Hinson.

Cheerleaders are Patty Green, Patti Rosser, Joan Hemphill, Donna Wickham and Barbara Hemphill, and managers are Kermit Ridgway, Donald Smith and Donald Lucas.

Big Ten Raps Whistle-Blowers

CHICAGO, March 12—Western Conference coaches claim there is too much whistle-blowing in basketball.

The coaches said yesterday at their meeting here that there are too many inconsequential fouls called in the game and made several recommendations to the National Collegiate Athletic Association. The specific proposals were not disclosed.

A 14-game Big Ten schedule for 1951-52 also was drafted at the meeting and sent to the conference athletic directors for approval.

44,576 Volumes Now Listed In Pickaway District Library

2,400 Books Added Here Last Year

Reading Habit Data Outlined

Book stock in Pickaway County District Public Library has expanded in numbers so rapidly during the last ten years that it now amounts to 44,576 volumes, it was disclosed in the annual report to the library board.

Of the approximately 2,400 books added to the shelves of the Bookmobile and main library during 1950, a large percentage were the so-called "easy books," particularly those suited to primary and second grade needs.

Almost one tenth were biographies, for this class of books leads all other non-fiction in popularity.

In 1949, a total of $4,489.48 was spent for 2,878 books, while in 1950 $3,530.60 was spent for books for the main library, including the self-supporting rental, while $1,523.07 was spent in purchasing books for the county, making a total of $5,053.67. This is another indication of the rise in cost of printed materials.

ALONG WITH THE routines of acquiring, processing, and circulating books, the library staff answered 570 counted questions, consulted 894 books in running down the answers.

This figure does not include the duplicate questions that come up so frequently when quizzes and contests are in progress.

They also assisted in planning programs for Grange, Scouts, high school commencements, sport banquets, parties, church and service groups. They supplied book jackets for Book Week displays in schools, bibliographies for club papers, book titles suitable as gifts.

Cookbooks were displayed at the library when cooking school was in session in Memorial Hall, sports books, gardening books, materials on old newspapers, bookmarks left in library books, horse and dog stories, collections of related subjects on items of current interest were on display at various times.

Of the 49,851 total circulation at the main library, fiction, including rentals made up about three fourths of the total number. Literature class came next, periodicals, useful arts, and fine arts of equal demand, while biography was in fourth place. Periodicals numbering 1685 were issued for home use. Many hundreds more were used in the library.

Teachers borrowed 1,180 books for classroom use and reported 597 circulations from these books. High school library in Circleville took 393 books for supplementary reading with 498 additional circulations reported.

FEBRUARY, MARCH and January were best months for circulation from the main library with 5,828, 5,695, and 5,415 volumes respectively.

Bookmobile circulation increased almost 11 percent, from 55,388 in 1949 to 61,513 in 1950, a gain reflecting added book stock and increased number of titles allowed the lower grades among other contributing factors.

City and county read approximately the same amount of non-fiction, about 12,000 with figures reversed. That is, in the city, adults read 9,202 volumes of non-fiction, while in county, juveniles took for home use 9,637 books of non-fiction. For the total, the trend is much the same.

CHILDREN in the city read 1,569 books to the adults' 30,282, while on book truck, circulation of children's books was 51,595, adults, 7,716. Bookmobile circulation exceeded city circulation by 7,000 volumes.

Best month on the Bookmobile was November with 8,030 books issued. October, March, and January were also good months. Fiction reading led in the county with a ratio of 46 to 12 or more than three times as many as non-fiction. Biography was non-fiction choice, accounting for 25 percent of the total non-fiction.

Social science which includes fairy tales and folklore, literature, and useful arts was next in popularity. A total of 2,782 books were issued to grade teachers in county schools.

Of the percentage of books taken per pupil enrolled in county schools for an average day, and for the first six months of school, South Bloomfield takes out the greatest number for size of school. Ashville takes out least. Eighty-four percent of the county children enrolled in the schools take out books.

The Bookmobile made two official appearances in counties other than Pickaway. In early May, Weldon Owens took the truck on a good will trip to Iron-ton to show the people there and in surrounding country how the Bookmobile operates.

ON AUG. 28-30, the Bookmobile was part of an exhibit at the Arts and Crafts Building at the Centennial Celebration of the Ohio State Fair in Columbus—an exhibit showing the "one hundred years" of Library Service," sponsored by Columbus Public Library. The Bookmobile was also on show during the Pick-away County Fair, and took part in the industrial parade at Pumpkin Show time.

• Storewide low prices on hundreds of items every day... instead of just a few "one-day" or "week-end" specials

• All advertised prices (including those of items not subject to price ceilings) are guaranteed for one week, even though market prices go up.

We believe this policy helps our customers save more money.

• With the correct price marked on every item, plus an itemized cash register slip... you know what you save at A&P.
